

Ian Stewart

Researcher in natural language processing.

✉ ibs@dartmouth.edu
📁 ianbstewart.github.io

I develop natural language processing methods that can adapt readily to socially-oriented situations, e.g. online conversations.

Education

- 2015–2020 Georgia Institute of Technology, Ph.D. in Human-Centered Computing.
Thesis: "The laws of LOL: computational approaches to sociolinguistic variation in online discussions."
Advised by Jacob Eisenstein and Diyi Yang.
- 2010–2014 Dartmouth College, A.B. Linguistics (cum laude), minor in Computer Science.
Thesis: "African American English syntax in Twitter."
Advised by James Stanford and Sravana Reddy.

Skills

- Programming Python (proficient), R (intermediate), Java (intermediate)
Libraries sklearn, statsmodels, pytorch, gensim, nltk, Beautiful Soup, matplotlib, pandas
Natural English (native), French (advanced), Japanese (beginner), Spanish (beginner), Māori (beginner) languages

Work experience

- Oct 2022 – Senior Data Scientist III, Pacific Northwest National Laboratory.
present
 - Developing machine learning technology for robustness and security.
- Sep 2020 – Research Fellow, UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN.
Sept 2022
 - Worked with Rada Mihalcea in the Language and Information Technologies Lab at University of Michigan.
 - Developed text generation models to adapt to different social needs.
 - Investigated emergent social bias in NLP systems.
 - Mentored undergraduate and graduate students in machine learning-related research projects.
- Aug 2015 – Graduate Research Assistant, GEORGIA INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY.
Aug 2020
 - Developed computational methods to describe and predict language variation in online discussions.
 - Applied linguistic analysis to understand social dynamics in real-life scenarios, e.g. breaking news events.
 - Adapted statistical models such as causal inference and survival analysis to test theories of sociolinguistic variation.
- May 2018 – PhD Fellow, Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research.
Aug 2018
 - Leveraged Facebook advertising API to assess immigrant behavior in the US.
 - Collected, organized and analyzed large-scale data with statistical models to test hypotheses on immigrant assimilation.
 - Engaged with interdisciplinary research team to set up survey for follow-up analysis.

Teaching

- Sept 2021 - May 2022: NLP+CSS 201 Tutorial Series
- Jan - May 2020: Natural language processing (CS 7650)
- Sep - Dec 2015: Introduction to artificial intelligence (CS 6601)

Awards

- Sept 2021 Research Grant, SUMMER INSTITUTES IN COMPUTATIONAL SOCIAL SCIENCE.
Funding for an open-source tutorial series about advanced natural language processing methods for computational social science.
- March 2017 Honorable Mention, NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION GRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP.
Runner-up in annual Graduate Research Fellowship competition. Award includes increased access to supercomputing resources.
- August 2016 Tuition Reimbursement Award, PACIFIC NORTHWEST NATIONAL LABORATORY.
Awarded to PhD interns in the National Security Internship Program who demonstrated outstanding performance in their summer research project. Covers one semester of graduate school tuition.
- August 2015 Great Promise Award, CHARLES RIVER ANALYTICS.
Awarded to an intern in each company division who shows significant promise as a software engineer.
- May 2014 Academic Achievement Award, DARTMOUTH COLLEGE LINGUISTICS DEPARTMENT.
Awarded to a graduating student who has demonstrated considerable commitment to research in linguistics.

Invited talks

Slides and materials available online.

- 2022 "Linguistic Bias as a Window into Social Attitudes." SocialNLP Workshop (at NAACL).
- 2022 "People first: toward socially-aware NLP-powered writing tools." Pacific Northwest National Laboratory.
- 2021 "Topic modeling 101." Information Retrieval class at University of Michigan.
- 2020 "Exploratory text analysis for computational social science." CORE Congress 2020.
- 2020 "Through the language glass: What NLP can reveal about sociolinguistic variation." NLP@GT talk.
- 2019 "Language change tutorial." Presented at IC2S2 in Amsterdam.
- 2019 "Why do you talk like that? Minority languages and politics." Guest lecture for "Applications of Linguistics" course at Georgia Tech.
- 2018 "Is it social or linguistic? Examining internal factors in language change." Workshop on New Methods in Computational Sociolinguistics. Leiden, Netherlands.

Reviewing

* indicates outstanding reviewer.

- 2022 ICWSM, Language Change workshop, ACL Rolling Review, EMNLP.
- 2021 CHI, ICWSM, EAACL, NAACL, EMNLP, W-NUT.
- 2020 ICWSM, ACL, EMNLP*, W-NUT.
- 2019 ICWSM, NAACL*, ACL, Language Change workshop, W-NUT.
- 2018 ICWSM, NAACL, EMNLP, Workshop on Noisy User-generated Text (W-NUT).

Service

- 2022 ICWSM Senior Program Committee.
- 2021-22 Co-organizer for computational social science tutorial series (“NLP+CSS 201”).
- 2021-22 Judge for Undergraduate Research Opportunity Program Symposium (Michigan).
- 2019 Co-leader for Human-Centered Computing seminar (weekly discussion for PhD students).
- 2018-19 Co-Chair of Graduate Student Council Travel Fund Committee.

Mentoring

- 2021 Aman Choudhury: Undergraduate (University of Michigan); analysis of news media.
- 2021 Aylin Gunal: Undergraduate (University of Michigan); analysis of counselor writing.
- 2021 Dillan Pribak: Undergraduate (University of Michigan); text generation.
- 2021 Yiting Shen: Master’s student (University of Michigan); analysis of bias in text.
- 2021 Gauri Kambhatla: Master’s student (University of Michigan); detection of stereotypes in text.
- 2018 Xiaochuang Han: Undergraduate (Georgia Institute of Technology); deep learning for entity resolution.
